

A Mother's Heart Speaks

The hand-cuffs dug into his wrist.
Through his hurt and anger,
He somehow made a fist.
He was just a boy,
But was treated like a man.
When the judge asked, "What's your plea?",
He didn't even understand.
His pleas, when he was younger,
Had gone unheard anyway.
So when they talk to him now,
He's got nothing much to say.
The first time he stood in front of a judge,
He was only twelve years old.
The little heart,
That was once full of love,
Began to grow cold.

He had been talking too much in class,
And misbehaving in the hall.
Instead of regarding this as Trouble at home,
They decided to nail him to the wall.

The probation officer told him
The he would have to earn his trust,
And that would take some time.
But he never seemed to think
About this child's trust,
That adults had destroyed
As they tangled up his mind.

Tears ran down his face,
From the eyes that once shined so bright,
As he stared at the prison clothes,
He was forced to wear that night.
His hands and feet were both bound,
As he wondered
If anyone could push him much further down.

He's seen a lifetime of misery,
In just 14 short years.
But no one seems to notice,
All the hurt mixed in his tears.

CHAIRMAN APPROVES PURCHASE OF NEW CAR WITH POLICE PACKAGE FOR COMMISSION CLERK

County Commission approves expenditures totaling over $315,000

by Marvin McLwain
Editor

Members of the Coffee County Commission took more than fifteen minutes to decide whether or not to spend $428 but voted to spend $14,000 plus in less than 30 seconds.

This all took place after one commissioner, Bernest Brooks, questioned the commission's voting to spend "large sums of money" without having more than a few minutes to make a decision on whether or not to do so.

Monday's meeting was mostly one of conducting routine business with the longest discussion coming on a motion made by Commissioner Robert Stephens.

County Engineer Mark Pool related to members of the commission that the mayor of Kinston had requested that the county had approximately 300 cubic yards of clay to the site of the town's recreation park.

Pool estimated that the cost of the clay - if the county chose to charge the town for it - would be approximately $428.

Commission Stephens made a motion to furnish the clay at "no charge" to the town. Commissioner Wendell Black seconded the motion.

During the discussion of Stephens' motion, the point was made that the commission had voted in a previous meeting to contribute a maximum of $10,000 toward the construction of the Kinston recreation park complex. This would consist mainly, if not totally, of in-kind work performed by the county highway department.

Pool told commissioners that work done on the park presently stood at about $20,200 in value. He further stated that the request for clay would not put this figure over the $10,000 cap.

There was also a request from the Soil Conservation Service to assist them in correcting an erosion problem at the town's park. It was estimated that this work, if done, would not put the county over the agreed-upon amount of $10,000.

Both the amendment and the motion passed by a unanimous vote of the commission.

The approval to spend $14,000 for "a car" came right at the close of Monday's session.

Commission Chairman Lawrence Creel asked that the commission approve the transfer of funds - within the budget - to purchase an automobile. He made his request in the form of a motion. Commissioner Jack Hanson seconded the motion.

The motion, without any discussion, passed with Commissioner Stephens casting the lone dissenting vote.

Due to a noisy air conditioner and the lack of proper use of the public address system by the commissioners, members of the media were unable to hear - if it was stated - from what part of the budget the funds were being transferred from and to where.

After the commission adjourned, members of the media, along with this reporter, questioned commissioners concerning the amending of the budget for the purchase of an automobile. They referred all questions concerning the matter to Chairman Lawrence Creel.

The chairman was asked for whom (what department) the car had been purchased. He stated that the car was to be used by Wilson Mobley, the clerk of commissioners' court. Creel further stated that the automobile would be available for use by members of the commission when making official trips.

Creel was asked upon whose authority or approval was the car purchased since it has been in the commission clerk's possession for several days prior to Monday's meeting, but was not brought before the commission until then.

He stated that he alone had approved the purchase.

The car purchased is a Chevrolet Caprice - fully loaded - and also contains a "police package." The car was bought under the state bid for vehicles to be used by the state's law enforcement agencies.

When asked by members of the media if the car was really necessary, Creel's response was that the county had been projecting a poor image at meetings being attended by Mobley and other members of the commission.

He was referring to a used car which was being used by the commission clerk and others to travel to state meetings being held at various locations throughout the state.

Previous to Monday's meeting no vehicle purchase or equipment purchase of this magnitude for the commission office had been previously budgeted.

According to reports, other county department heads had approached the commission with purchase requests but were told that they would need to wait and incorporate them into the next budget.

Other matters of business conducted by the commission were as follows:

***Farmers in Coffee County are being asked to bring their empty plastic herbicide and pesticide containers to the county's landfill where they will be chipped up and disposed of. The scheduled dates are: June 13-17 and October 10-14. There will be NO CHARGE for this service.

***Awarded the bid for a compactor to be used at the landfill to Thompson Tractor Company of Dothan. Their bid was $264,000 lease/purchase price.

***The Enterprise Ledger was awarded the bid for publication of the voters' list. Their bid of $3,887,000 was the only one submitted.

***The low bid to furnish steel pipe to the county highway department was from Chocaw, Inc. Their bid was $31,022.08 total price.

***The commission approved the closing of Co. Rd. 269 - a dirt road located just off Al Hwy. 167 north of Enterprise.

***Approved the lease of a parking area near the Enterprise Courthouse. The land belongs to First Alabama.

Minutes of no quorum meeting approved by council

by Fern Cox
Publisher

The Elba City Council meeting Monday night was over in 45 minutes. The only difference of opinion expressed was over the approval of minutes from an adjourned meeting in which there was no quorum to conduct any business.

Mayor Ricky Haywood presented the minutes for this April 29th date, along with minutes from three other meetings.

To get a motion of approval of these minutes, Haywood turned the gavel over to council member Bill Brunson and made the motion himself. Councilman Earl McCollough was the only council member who was present on the 29th and the seconded Haywood's motion. These two and John W. Sharpless voted yes. Council members Bill Brunson and Brad Wilson voted no. Council member Gladys Yelverton abstained.

The minutes for the adjourned meeting were approved on the 3-2 vote. Brunson and Wilson both explained their negative vote was because they felt that without a quorum, there was no meeting and therefore no minutes to approve.

The council approved a $650 appropriation to the Coffee County Retarded Citizens. This is to help pay for an annual week long summer camp held in Enterprise.

Election officials for the June 7th wet-dry election were approved. City Clerk Jim Nichols told council members he had talked with those on the list and they had agreed to serve. Haywood said Nichols would be making arrangements for setting up any necessary poll official school. Four machines will be used in the wet-dry voting, council members were told.

Bills totaling $30631.60 were approved for payment. Included was a $13,183 bill charged after a Workman's Comp audit for last year.

One purchase order was approved. However it was for the Civil Air Patrol, using a federal grant. Elba is only serving as an accounting agency for the project and no municipal funds are involved.

Filling of expired terms on the Planning and Zoning Board was tabled until council members have time to find out if those whose terms are expiring would consent to re-appointment.

Councilman Earl McCollough asked City Attorney Mark Vaughan if he had found any way it was legal for the two council members with school teacher wives to vote on the proposed sales tax.

Vaughan said he had never felt there was any problem. However he had been given copies of ordinances from other cities which avoided that possible vested interest conflict with Alabama law.

The council members instructed Vaughan to draw up an ordinance for Elba using those guidelines. It will be presented at the next council meeting. However, at the request of Mayor Haywood, the motion will be tabled until council members have time to find out if those whose terms are expiring would consent to re-appointment.

Vester Cole Day Saturday, May 21, 1994

by Marvin McLwain
Editor

New Brockton is planning a town celebration - Vester Cole Day - Saturday, May 21, 1994.

The occasion honoring Mr. Cole is scheduled for Saturday, May 21, 1994.

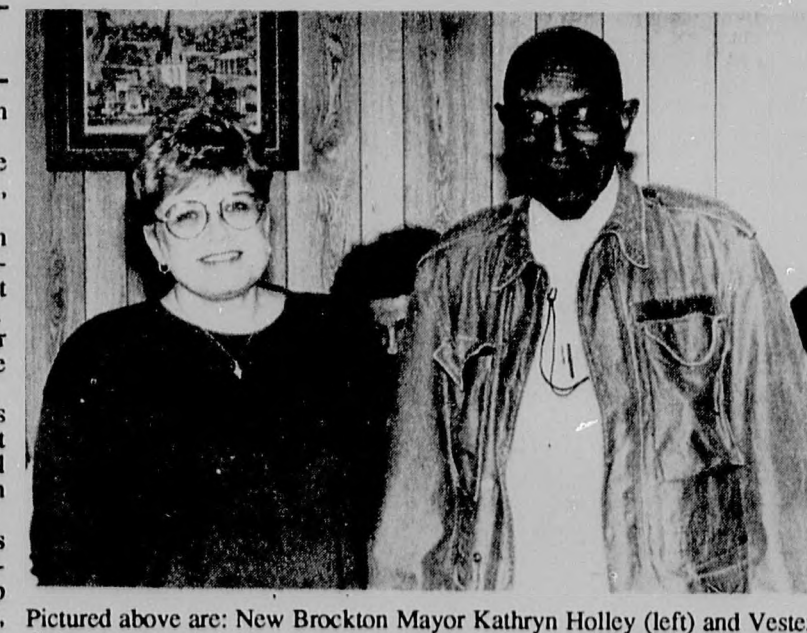

Activities for the day will begin at 11:00 a.m. with a parade downtown and will conclude with a street dance from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m.

Vester Cole, a ninety-three year old gentleman, was employed by the town until August 17, 1993.

He worked twenty-nine years as the "street man" and without a doubt would still be on the town's payroll had he not felt and broke his hip on the job.

Many a summer, teen-age boys hired by the town through the summer youth program could not keep pace with Mr. Cole. He drove trucks, made street repairs, loaded trash, maintained the grounds around city hall and anything else that needed doing.

Cole has been and still is an inspiration to all of those who know him or have come in contact with him. He is so unique that when the town filed his workers compensation claim, the carrier did not know and still does not know how to arrive at a settlement. They tell city officials that "their charts do not go to age 94."

Vester Cole was born on June 15, 1900 in the northeast corner of Coffee County. His parents were Charles and Callie Cole.

Mr. Cole's mother lived to be 106 years old. Mr. Vester's son, Charles (named for his grandfather), is a member of the present town council and attributes his height to his grandfather who was 6'11" tall.

In an interview last Friday, Mr. Vester attributed his long life to "living right and treating your fellow man the way you want to be treated."

When asked about the younger generation, he said, "The biggest problem with children today is that they are being raised by someone else rather than their parents."

He also said, "Prayer and discipline needs to be put back in the schools."

Cole said that his changed way of living and his children are two things that he is proudest of.

He made an interesting observation when he stated that "people have changed from bad to good."

Cole, as an explanation, said that he had seen people do and say a lot more worse things than he sees today.

Councilman Robert Miles, who is spearheading the organization of the event, invites organizations, individuals, politicians and anyone else who wishes to participate in the parade to be at New Brockton High School no later than 10 a.m. on May 21st.

The town extends an invitation to one and all to come join in a day honoring Vester Cole.

ESJC'S Opera workshop presents "The Telephone" in Elba

Spring quarter at Enterprise State Junior College brought a new class, the Opera Workshop, to the College's already extensive curriculum.

The class includes a wide range of ages, with some students who are in high school, and the teacher of the class, Sylvia Tucker, says everyone has learned about the production of a small opera from the ground up.

We are presenting "The Telephone," which is about a man who goes to propose marriage to his girlfriend, but she is on the phone, and stays on the phone for so long that he doesn't get a chance to talk to her because he has to leave to go on a business trip," Tucker explains.

She says the story unfolds as he tries to find a way to ask this woman to marry him, and he ends up calling his girlfriend from the train station, since the only way to talk to her is on the phone.

Tucker says "The Telephone" is very enjoyable and a fun opera to see, and she emphasizes that this isn't the typical production that one thinks of when hearing the word "opera."

For one thing, this opera is in English, and we are incorporating a lot of acting, art, movement, singing and diction into the entire performance," Tucker says.

She says that with a limited budget to work with, the cast participated in everything from the set design, to finding an orchestra for accompaniment.

"Also featured will be 'Porgy and Bess' and 'Phantom of the Opera,' honoree, Miss Dawn Shaw, Mrs. Shirley Shaw, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. Eugene DeVane, mother of the groom-elect.

Guests were invited to the dining room for refreshments served by Mrs. Kenneth Calhoun.

complimented by a crystal punch bowl and a beautiful arrangement of spring flowers.

The guests were invited to view the many lovely gifts on display in the bedrooms of the home.

Many guests called between the hours of two and three thirty in the afternoon.

We encourage everyone to come see this wonderful production," she explains.

Coffee County Baptist Association to observe "Week of Prayer"

Coffee County Baptist Association will observe a Week of Prayer for Associational Missions May 15-22.

Associations have a long history, the first one being formed by Baptist churches in England in the mid-1600s. Coffee County Baptist Association began in 1908 with 33 churches. This has grown to 46 churches plus an Hispanic Mission sponsored by First Baptist Enterprise and Hillview Chapel sponsored by First Baptist Elba. Also the association owns The Vineyard, over seventy acres and a conference center in northeast Coffee County. The two-story facility is fully heated and air-conditioned and can accommodate over 120 campers.

The association provides conferences and seminars each year to provide training for church leaders as well as pastors. During the summer three mission trips are planned: Fort Pierce, FL June 19-25; Houma, Louisiana July 17-22; and to the Midwest in August.

Several activities are planned during the Week of Prayer for Associational Missions. Tuesday, May 17, Baptist church secretaries will be honored with a luncheon; Thursday, May 19 an After-Work Open House at the associational office will be held.

Agri-Business Class Projects

by Ben Coale
Students in the eighth-grade Agri-Business class at Zion Chapel High School are beginning a new project. The class is building knife racks, gun cabinets, desks, clipboards, and entertainment centers. Wood is used for the construction of all the projects. Students use a pattern for some of the projects. They then use various power tools to cut out the pieces. The class is instructed by Mr. John McCarty. The students began building May 2 and they plan to be taken home by May 20. After the projects are finished some of the projects will be taken home. Mr. McCarty feels that members of the class will learn how to make a construction and then follow through with the plan. Students who worked on the projects felt they learned a little something about planning, figuring costs of building from scratch, and constructing the project themselves.

Student Teachers Intern At Zion Chapel

by Chris Gunnell

Mrs. Sheila Ballard and Mr. Grant Grantham, both coming from Troy State University, began teaching at Zion Chapel on March 21. Their internships will end on June 3, when they will proudly become graduates of Troy State University. Mrs. Ballard is planning to teach English and Math through grade seven and twelve. She is majoring in Secondary Education. Mrs. Ballard chose to teach math because she has always liked it and it was easy to understand. She chose English because of the literature. She says that she enjoys teaching at Zion Chapel because it is a small school just as the one she graduated from. Mrs. Ballard says the students are much better behaved than at a larger school and most are willing to do the work assigned. Mrs. Ballard is currently teaching in some of the classes regularly taught by Mrs. Sonya Shaw, the English instructor, and Ms. Mary Herbert, the math instructor at Zion Chapel High School.

Mr. Grantham is planning to teach Biology and Health in a high school. He is majoring in Biology. Mr. Grantham chose to teach because he likes working with kids. He says he enjoys teaching at Zion Chapel because he likes the students, they do good work, there is not a big discipline problem, and the students here ask good questions in the classroom. Mr. Grantham is currently teaching some of the classes regularly taught by Mrs. Jackie Jarrig, the Biology/Anatomy instructor at Zion Chapel.

The Great Book Find!!

In a recent clean-up of the Computer Lab under general supervision of the instructor's "forever piled high" desk, a very valuable book was found. The title of the book is "Thanksgiving" by Mrs. Mary Herbert, published by Mrs. Diane Taylor's Kindergarten on November 18, 1983.

The Rebel News would like to share with our readers some of these recipes and tell who the authors were.

"Turkey" by Roger Marler: Buy a turkey at the Piggy Wiggly. Cut it up. Put salt on it. Boil it in a big pan. Cook it for about 6 minutes.

"Cold Salad" by Beverly Simmons: First you put in some salt. Then some mayonnaise.

"Pumpkin Pie" by Pam Johnson: Cut the top of a pumpkin. Take the stuff out. Mash up cornbread. Cook it 10 hours. Stir it 9 minutes. Put in some garlic and hot pickles.

"Dressing" by Suzi Bryan: Get some mashed up cornbread. Cook it 10 hours. Stir it 9 minutes. Put in some garlic and hot pickles.

"Peas" by Brad Grantham: Put them in a bowl and cook them. Put some salt on them. Pour them in a cake pan. Put some pepper in and cook them 2 more minutes. Put some grease in them while they are cooking.

"Dumplings" by Shey Nelson: Open the can. Put it in a pan. Cook it for 10 minutes.

"Pumpkin Cake" by Joe Carney: Get the guts out of a pumpkin. Cook it. Get it out and put it on a cake tray. Put the icing on it. That's all, but put some sugar on it.

"Cornbread" by Shane Parish: Put some cornbread in a bowl. Put some water in it. Stir it up. Put it in a pan. Cook it 2 hours.

Back when I was growing up, my Mom used to fuss about the fact that one of us would be playing ball at one field and another would be playing at another field, making it impossible for her to watch both games. The same is still true for parents everywhere, but we in the Mularz house have a little bigger problem, since Melissa is playing softball in Enterprise and Melanie is playing softball in Elba. Melissa started in Enterprise weeks before Elba's leagues got organized, and after later joining a team in Elba, decided to stick with her team over in Enterprise. Melanie also started off in Enterprise, but her ball team had more boys than girls, and she jumped at the chance to play in a league just for girls in Elba. As we had feared, and we'll reveal a few conflicts; however, not as many as we had feared, and we'll make sure both girls get the support they need, even if it means one parent may have to cheer a little louder than usual.

ELBA TIGERS MAKE RETURN TRIP TO SEMIFINAL ROUND

The Elba Tigers made it three one-run wins in a row last week and have now made it to the semifinal round of the high school baseball playoffs for the second straight year. The Tigers have a lot of experienced players and were somewhat of a puzzle for most of the season, but in the playoffs, as experience has shown and the Tigers have won each game by one run, scoring late in all three games to pull out the kind of wins you expect a veteran team to win. It's fun for the players, a little scary for the fans and could make a young coach go bald before his age; however, a win is a win and the Tigers are now winning at just the right time!

Last Wednesday, the Tigers hosted Glencoe and whipped their guests 4-3, scoring the winning runs in the bottom of the sixth inning with two outs. Elba was down throughout the game and could have easily quit, but never even thought about losing and fought back for an impressive win. The winning run crossed the plate as Keith Grantham slid into first to beat what would have been the third out, and his slide was an indication of the desire and pride that the entire team showed in the crucial second round game.

Saturday the Tigers made the long trip to Chilton to tangle with Washington County, and once again Elba needed all the experience and desire they had to pull out the win. Elba beat the ball around the ballpark all game long, but could never seem to put the home team away, and in the fifth inning saw four of five batters get base hits, but managed only one run, as Washington County turned a hit into an inning-ending double-play. The bad luck in the fifth could have been the end for the Tigers, but they refused to lose, and once again battled back and rallied for the win.

Elba will carry a 10-7 record down to Mobile this weekend for the three-game series with St. Paul's, which will enter the game at 24-3. The records might indicate an easy time for the home team, but the Elba Tigers are much better than their record might indicate and the Tigers have learned from many of the losses. Those lessons learned the hard way have played a major role in Elba's playoff success, and the St. Paul's players and fans may find the Tigers a different bunch than they expect.

GIRLS SOFTBALL REACHES SECTION TOURNAMENTS

While the baseball playoffs are entering the semifinal round, the girls' softball playoffs are just starting and that means that this will be a busy weekend for teams all across the state.

The Elba Lady Tigers haven't had the kind of season they expected and don't have a winning record; however, the Lady Tigers have taken it easy during the season and seem to be aiming at this week's tournament to peak. Elba has some top quality players and should do well in the tournament, and have a real shot at making a return trip to the State Tourney.

New Brockton's Lady Gamecocks are also one of the favorites at the Section Tournament and the Lady Gamecocks are hoping that the third time will be the charm, and also be the time the team makes its first trip to the State Tourney. New Brockton isn't loaded with talent, but does have some excellent players, and if the Lady Gamecocks hit the ball, watch out. Kinston's Lady Bulldogs are an experienced team that should do well in their Section. The Lady Bulldogs have one of the area's oldest and best overall girls' athletic programs, and the girls from Kinston could be a surprise team this weekend at the tourney.

Zion Chapel has had a tough season; however, if you learn something every time you take the field the experience will pay off down the line and success will come. The Lady Rebels may not be a threat to make it to the Sub-State this season, but the girls have to keep working and believing in themselves and before long the wins will come.

All the county teams are in action this week and I urge their fans to get out of the house on Saturday and support their teams. The games will be going on all over the place, just check the schedule and head out. The players definitely deserve your support!

YOUTH SPORTS COVERAGE OFF TO SLOW START

The youth baseball and softball seasons will hit full stride this week, but so far the results of the games have not made it to their usual home on the Sports pages of The Elba Clipper. Last week the league officials got report forms on which to report the league standings, the results of all the games and the top hitters in the games. It was hoped that the reports would be filled out and returned to the Clipper office in time to get in this week's paper, but they missed the deadline and the only games reported are the ones reported by one of the coaches. The Elba Clipper has always supported the youth of the community and given excellent coverage to the various summer leagues, and the same will be true again this summer. Maybe this week we'll get the bugs worked out and next week we'll be able to catch up.

ON THE GRILL...ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

***The Elba Tigers will take the field this weekend in Mobile in the semifinal round of the state baseball tournament and will take on some of the best baseball players the city of Mobile, and the surrounding area, has to offer. Elba may very well win the best-of-three series; however, it simply isn't fair for schools the size of Elba to have to compete against private schools that can recruit from any source available. Fair is fair, and it isn't, and never will be, fair for private schools to compete against public schools that are ruled by district lines.

***The girls' softball teams across the state will compete this weekend at the Sectional Tournaments, and many of the girls will go on to college on scholarship. Slow pitch softball is a good sport for the girls and it is fun to watch; however, it is time for the high schools, junior colleges and colleges to get on the same page and either play slow pitch or fast pitch. The high schools and junior colleges both play slow pitch, but no major colleges play slow pitch, and it puts the younger players at a disadvantage.

Edge Glencoe 4-3 and Washington County 5-4

Tigers roar into semifinals

The Elba Tigers advanced to the semi-finals of the Class 3A State Baseball Playoffs for the second straight year last week by claiming hard fought wins over Glencoe 4-3 and Washington County 5-4.

The wins improved the Tigers record to 10-7 and moved Elba into a best-of-three showdown this Friday and Saturday against St. Paul's, in Mobile.

Following are highlights of both playoff wins:

ELBA 4
GLENCOE 3

The Elba Tigers pushed across two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to grab the lead and held on to slip past the Glencoe Yellowjackets 4-3, last Wednesday afternoon, in Elba.

The visitors jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning as the Yellowjackets' leadoff batter drew a base on balls and eventually raced home on a base hit. Glencoe had a chance to add to its lead; however, Elba pitcher Cory Driggers came up with a defensive gem on a hard shot up the middle and tagged out a Glencoe baserunner between second and third to kill the threat.

Driggers opened the bottom of the first with a single to initiate an early Elba rally, stole second to move into scoring range, and came home on a clutch two-out single by Che Vaughan to pull the Tigers even at 1-1.

Glencoe moved back on top 2-1 in the top of the third inning and threatened to take command, but this time it was shortstop Michael Grantham that came up with the big defensive play as he made a diving stop on a grounder headed up the middle with runners on first and second, and made a throw to second for the forced out, while still on the ground.

The Tigers answered quickly on a long home-run by Josh Caldwell in the bottom of the third to catch the Yellowjackets at 2-2, only to see Glencoe refuse to let up and regain the advantage at 3-2 in the fifth inning.

The Tigers were still trailing 3-2 heading into the bottom of the sixth; however, Elba managed to push across a pair of runs to take the lead at 4-3.

The Tigers saw their first two batters retired in order in the bottom of the sixth, but Michael Grantham was then hit by a pitch and Cory Driggers drew a walk, giving the Tigers life with runners on first and second with two outs.

Josh Caldwell delivered a big line drive single to drive in Grantham and knot the score at 3-5, while Keith Grantham followed with a hard grounder to shortstop, and beat out a high throw with a head-first slide to allow Driggers to score with what proved to be the winning run.

Che Vaughan got 3 hits and stole four bases to lead the Tigers at the plate, while Josh Caldwell had two hits and two runs-batted-in and Keith Grantham added 2 hits.

Cory Driggers scattered 4 hits over seven innings to claim the mound win for the Tigers, striking out six and walking four.

by Sue Holland, Vista Volunteer
Kendrick and Morrow Village Resident Associations have announced that the Yard of the Month winners for April are Mary Hodge of Mullins Apartments, and Minnie Flowers of Morrow Village.

Mrs. Flowers loves flowers, and spends much of her time working with them. Roses are the backbone of her garden, and they grow in profusion with various lilacs and other perennials. Floribunda roses are her specialty.

Mary Hodge also has many roses, but loves the tea roses best. She has some beautiful varieties. Annuals and perennials mix together in her beds to create a vivid display of color.

Both winners receive a free meal for two at Kelly's Barbecue, and a Yard of the Month sign in their yard.

Brunson's hold 141st annual family reunion

On Sunday, April 17, 1994, tradition continued as more than four hundred members of the Brunson family gathered at the family picnic area for their annual reunion.

Mathew Brunson and his wife, Sarah Blanchard, moved their family to Coffee County in 1853, just twelve years after the county was created. They established their home on the four sections of land they owned northeast of Elba near Pea River. They built a kitchen, and the following year, in 1854, they built the plantation home which stood on the highest hill on the plantation until it was purchased by Walter Lunsford and moved to Enterprise. It is the present home of Simply Southern and believed to be the oldest residence in Coffee County.

The Mathew Brunson family consisted of his wife, Sarah, and six children: Josiah Pinkney, Matthew II, Silas, Eugene (Pig), Anna and Sara (Sally). Tow years later, in 1855, a fifth son and seventh child, John Franklin, was born. He was the first Brunson born in Coffee County.

In 1856 Mathew's brother, Rev. L. H. Brunson, moved his family to Coffee County and he was the organizing pastor when the Woodland Grove Baptist Church was established. Their sister, Amanda Brunson McDurmont, joined Mathew and Rev. Kiah in 1860. Descendants were present at the 1994 reunion from all three of those original Coffee County families.

The Brunson Reunion has been a birthday celebration for Patriarch Mathew Brunson in Coffee County for 141 years. Descendants were present at this year's reunion from each of his children.

Barbecue pork has traditionally been the main meat. Preparation for this must begin at a very early hour. The cooks arrive shortly after midnight on reunion morning. The fire is lighted on several cords of hickory and oak carefully selected by Dale Polmar.

By the time the hogs are wired to the racks, coals are ready to cook them for the next five or six hours until they are fully cooked. Chicken and pork are put in six large wash pots and boiled for several hours. The cooks are: Maynard Brunson, Bobby Brunson, Billy Joe Brunson, Foyel Brunson, Greg Brunson, and assisted by Matt and Bailey Brunson and other members of the family.

When family members arrived for the great day of fellowship, the racks of hickory cooked pork dominated the picnic grounds. Many relatives go to the pits and watch the meat cook. Some take pictures to take home and share with friends and relatives.

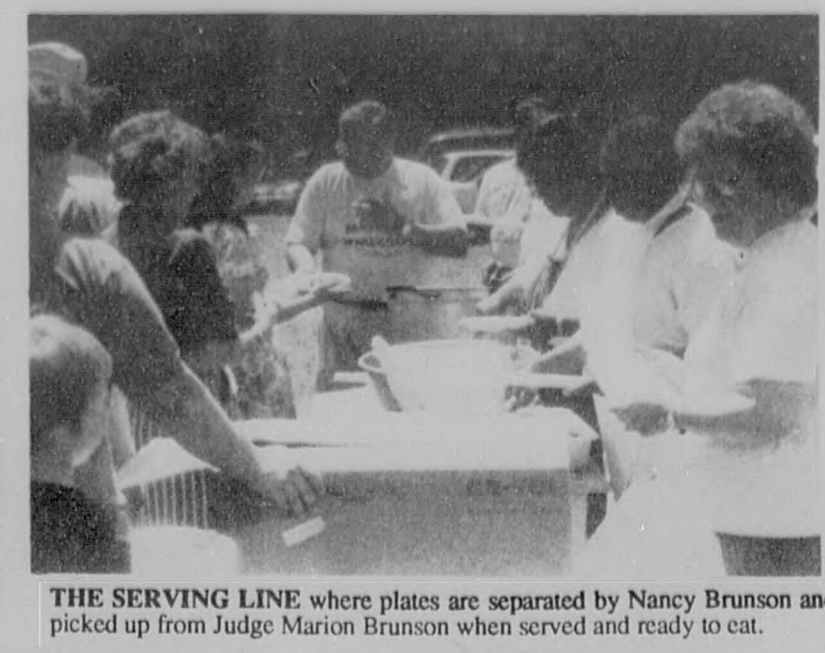

Family members were present from throughout Alabama and Florida. They also came from Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, and Colorado. The weather in Elba was perfect for an outside reunion and added greatly to the great success of the reunion.

The 1994 reunion was very special in that the Brunson Reunion Cookbooks were available, as tradition was filled with flavor. More than 550 recipes are found in the cookbook which was compiled by Judge Brunson's sister-in-law, Jean Brunson, of Mobile. Family members submitted their favorite recipes, some being handed down to the present generation. The cookbook cover was designed by Mary Rollins of Enterprise. It was a sketch of the rustic food shelter which has held many bountiful Brunson Reunion meals for many years. Judge Brunson published the treasured cookbook for many years. The cookbook is his eighth publication.

As the near perfect reunion came to a close this year, members of the family not only took the memory of the day and each other they also took each others cookbook contribution to enjoy all year. Each April, relatives gather in Elba and enjoy the great legacy which has gone on for 141 years.

MATT BRUNSON cuts barbeque into small pieces as his young son, Matthew, carefully watches the process.

THE SERVING LINE where plates are separated by Nancy Brunson and picked up from Judge Marion Brunson when served and ready to eat.

BILLY JOE BRUNSON pulls back fire from the six pits which cooked chicken, pork, and rice. Bart and Kitty Whaley of China Springs, watch his skill.

BRUNSONS BY THE HUNDREDS enjoy their food and fellowship on the family picnic grounds each year.

COUSINS ENJOY THE 141ST REUNION! Seated: Preston Brunson of Sanson; Foster Brunson of Atlanta, Georgia; Margaret Smith, A.C. 'Bud' Brunson and Lois Whaley, all of Elba; Beatrice Saxon and Mildred Brock of Birmingham. Standing: Rev. Elmer Brunson of Lytle, Texas; Dan Brunson of Mobile; Alene Ball of Stone Mountain, Georgia; and Lamar Brunson of Talladega.

Thawing Foods Safely

With recent outbreaks of food poisoning across the country, food safety is a growing concern for many of us. Handling food safely can limit the danger you face from food-borne diseases.

Don't refreeze foods. That's an axiom heard regularly. But what can you do with frozen grocery store meats that must be thawed to be divided into smaller packages? Those types of products are usually safe to refreeze because the products were thawed and packaged in a controlled environment.

Generally, you should not refreeze meat or other foods that you have thawed at home. Refreezing isn't the problem. The problem lies in thawing the food twice. Microbes cannot grow in the freezer. But when you thaw food, microbes multiply rapidly in the warmer environment. When you refreeze food after microbes have had a chance to grow, you are refreezing it with a much higher number of microbes. When you thaw the food for a second time, those microbes reproduce again, adding even more microorganisms to the food.

There is a proper way to thaw foods. The best way is to let the product defrost in the refrigerator. Keep the product in its original packaging to avoid contaminating the food by handling it. Be sure to allow enough time for the food to thaw. A whole frozen chicken may take 48 hours to thaw in the refrigerator.

You can also defrost foods in the microwave. One disadvantage to microwave defrosting is that some parts of the food may start to cook before the rest is thawed. Finally, you can defrost food under cold running water. The food should not stand in the water.

After your food is thawed, cook it immediately. Microbes thrive at the same temperatures you are happy with. They do not like extreme cold and cannot survive high heat.

This was after winning in their class contest. Those placing were: (l to r) Chris Sims, New Brockton; Aaron Burns, New Brockton; Conny Cooper, Elba; Jill Wright, Elba; Matt Windham, New Brockton; Jerry DuBoise, Elba. Many of the speeches were very well done, therefore any number of others could have been winners.

Hummingbird feeders need to be cleaned weekly

Hummingbirds usually begin visiting feeders in April or early May. Feeders can be filled with a store-bought nectar solution or a homemade one. To make the homemade solution, you should mix one part table sugar to five parts warm water. Hummingbirds are attracted to the color red, so use feeders that have plenty of red on them. It is not necessary to add red food coloring to the nectar solution. A feeder with a "bee guard" is best because the birds will not use a feeder if too many bees are attracted to it.

Hummingbird feeders should be cleaned on a weekly basis. Rinse feeders with vinegar and hot water. Do not use detergents to clean your feeders. Extra nectar should be stored in the refrigerator. Do not use honey as a substitute for sugar in your nectar solution. Hummingbirds cannot digest honey. If you want more information about these tiny birds and feeding them, contact the County Extension Office and ask for "Hummingbirds in Alabama," circular ANR-716.
